

1355

Eastern Empire

John PALAEOLOGUS was emperor

1355

1912 Dates J-BK

(1275-1355) Marino FALIERI

A Venetian Doge, elected to office at 80 years of age. Incited a rebellion to overthrow the state and massacre the aristocracy because of, as he thought, an insufficiently punished insult to his young wife by a member of the nobility. Convicted of high treason and beheaded.

1355

The Clock that Peter Tightfoot made for Glastonbury Abbey in 1355 was one of the finest of old weight clocks. It remained in splendid working order until the year 1835 when the badly worn wheels of its mechanism had to be replaced.

1355

1912 Dates J-BK

Italy

Conspiracies in Venice;
the doge MARINO FALLIERI was executed 1355; the Council of Ten.

1355

Establishment of the Ottomans
in Europe